Insert: Our team of specialists provides comprehensive care for Windward O'ahu

Page 8: Gratitude is good for your health—how to grow more thankful in the new year.

A photograph of a male doctor in a white lab coat and a pink striped tie, looking down at a patient lying on a gurney. A female medical professional is partially visible in the background, also looking at the patient. The setting is a hospital emergency department.

Adventist Health Castle's Emergency Department was recently certified as a Primary Stroke Center. Within the next two years, Castle hopes to bring another important resource to Windward O'ahu families as a nationally designated Level III Trauma Center. Read our special insert to learn how Castle is bringing convenient specialized care to our Windward communities.

Community connections

2018 I Love Kailua Town Party
Adventist Health Castle presented a Health and Wellness Fair at the annual I Love Kailua Town Party on April 29 in Kailua town. The I Love Kailua Town Party benefits the Lani-Kailua Outdoor Circle's beautification projects and is the largest street fair on Windward O'ahu. Castle's Health and Wellness Fair included an "Ask A Doctor" booth and interactive educational booths featuring the medical center's specialists and services.

72nd Kailua Independence Day Parade

More than 60 associates and their families and friends were part of Castle's entry in the 72nd Kailua Independence Day Parade. Castle's float was themed around its 2017 Malcom Baldrige National Quality Award. The crowd especially enjoyed the giveaways handed out by our parade volunteers.

2018 RIMPAC exercise

On July 12, Castle participated in the biennial Rim of the Pacific exercise that most O'ahu hospitals participate in. Hospitals receive "casualties" to practice military integration with civil organizations. Castle received a record 37 "casualties," 25 arriving from Ford Island.

Over the course of about 40 minutes, all the "injured" were brought to the hospital to overload the system and test our response. The setup was smooth, initial briefings were well-organized, and the strategies were cleanly executed. Castle received the most "casualties" in the state.

Outdoor Circle 2018 Beautification Award

The Lani-Kailua Outdoor Circle presented Adventist Health Castle with its 2018 Beautification Award for landscaping, in particular the Hau trellis over the walkway to the medical center's front entrance. The award was presented at this year's I Love Kailua Town Party by Outdoor Circle President Steve Mechler (far left) to AH Castle's Heidar Thordarson, finance executive; Joel Pedrina, facilities supervisor; and Richard Kirchner, facilities director.

Achievements

To be eligible for an award, an organization must demonstrate outstanding performance and achievement in areas such as patient care and employee and physician engagement.

Roger Palmer, MD, accepts Castle's Award for Excellence in Physician Engagement from Debbie Ritchie, president of Studer Group.

CLOSE TO HOME

BY MELE POCHEREVA

THE EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

at Adventist Health Castle receives more than 33,000 patient visits each year. That number's rising steadily as Windward O'ahu's population swells.

Better care is built in

To better serve this vital and growing community need, Castle completed an extensive $7.5 million renovation of the Emergency Department (ED) in 2016. We increased capacity by 50 percent and reconfigured the expanded space to allow for more efficient workflow and technology upgrades. The number of emergency beds grew from 18 to 25. New beds include specialty rooms for cardiac, OB-GYN and eye emergencies; a dedicated trauma bay; and a stand-alone behavioral health area with three rooms—all of which are equipped with state-of-the-art medical technology. And the ED's negative pressure room allows patients with contagious respiratory infections or contamination by dangerous substances to be safely isolated and treated.

At the heart of the department is a team of board-certified emergency physicians who provide 24-hour coverage and a highly qualified nursing staff, whose minimum professional requirements include certifications in stroke care, advanced life support and pediatric advanced life support. With specialty physicians on call, Windward residents are in good hands when they arrive at Castle's ED.

The pursuit of excellence is one of Castle's core values, along with respect, integrity and compassion.

Dianna Motley, RN, BSN, MHRM, manager of Castle's Emergency Department, has more than 14 years of experience working in emergency departments and trauma centers but has never seen any other hospital put quality at the forefront of care like Castle does.

"We are constantly working on improvements," Motley says. "Even though our department exceeds national standards and benchmarks in so many areas, we always strive to do better. That's what I love about Castle!"

Fast care

A significant part of a patient's ED experience is the time it takes to receive care. In 2017, Castle's ED had shorter wait times in two out of three categories, compared to national averages. The department also prides itself on having the best "door-to-doctor" time in the state, and an overall patient satisfaction ranking in the nation's top quartile.

Filling a need for trauma care

WITHIN THE NEXT TWO YEARS,

Adventist Health Castle hopes to bring an important resource to Windward O'ahu families as a nationally designated Level III Trauma Center.

With the growing number of trauma patients arriving at the Emergency Department in recent years, such a designation enables Castle to add personnel and facilities to care for more such patients, explains Sarah Janoian, BSN, RN, CNOR, Castle's new trauma program coordinator.

"Rather than having to transport critically injured patients to a trauma facility in town, such a facility in Windward O'ahu would enable us to provide patients a higher level of care within their own community—and hopefully benefit patient outcomes—while relieving some of the trauma patient overload at other hospitals," says Janoian. "It also will be more convenient for patients' families to be involved in the care, closer to home."

Castle began a feasibility study with the state of Hawai'i over a year ago, working with a consultant who helps hospitals become trauma-designated facilities.

"There are many people helping in this endeavor, and many more will join in the month ahead," Janoian says. From physicians and nursing staff to quality assurance, facilities and financial management, all are working toward the common goal to deliver safe, evidence-based, quality care to Windward O'ahu trauma patients.

Meet Martti, a multilingual master

Communication between a patient and his or her medical team is an important part of patient care and positive outcomes. In an emergency, when time is of the essence, bridging a language gap takes on additional urgency.

Hawai'i's multiethnic culture and growing immigrant population with limited English language proficiency make Martti an essential resource for Adventist Health Castle and its patients. Martti—My Accessible Real-Time Trusted Interpreter—is a two-way interpretation service designed for the health care industry. At the push of a button, patients have on-demand access to a network of certified medical interpreters and more than 250 languages, including American sign language, to assist them.

That means patients can be seen and treated without additional wait times due to language barriers. And they can be more at ease knowing their medical needs are understood.

O'AHU'S NEWEST PRIMARY STROKE CENTER

When every minute matters

TIME IS CRUCIAL for stroke patients, who risk severe disability if not treated promptly. Adventist Health Castle's response measures for stroke patients are in the top decile in the country.

"The moment a patient with stroke or strokelike symptoms arrives at the Emergency Department, one of our physicians makes an immediate assessment before the patient is taken for a CT scan to determine what type of stroke has occurred," Dianna Motley, RN, BSN, MHRM, manager of Castle's Emergency Department (ED), explains. "The goal is to get patients in for a scan within the first 15 minutes of arrival, but we usually have it done within five minutes. Time means brain tissue in a stroke patient, so we count every minute."

All of the department's nursing staff are NIHSS-certified, meaning they are trained to assess patients' symptoms—and track any changes—according to the National Institutes of Health Stroke Scale.

Measurable excellence

The ED's recent certification as a Primary Stroke Center is a significant accomplishment for Castle and a testament to the high standard of care that stroke patients receive.

Certification requires a thorough assessment by The Joint Commission, the national health care accreditation organization that examines policies, procedures and outcomes—a rigorous process that takes place over several days.

"Typically, certification isn't earned on the first try," Motley notes. "You can imagine how proud we were to be certified after one visit from The Joint Commission's representative. She told us that she has never had such a good first-time survey"

While Castle's proven excellence in stroke care is a valuable community resource, Motley underlines the important role of patients and their families in taking action at the first sign of a stroke, even if the symptoms are mild.

"The biggest error is waiting to seek treatment," she says. Lost time can mean lost brain tissue, so it's important to call an ambulance right away so that appropriate treatment isn't delayed. Patients often can have 100 percent resolution, even after a devastating stroke."

FAST—a useful 4-letter word

If you are going to receive a clot-dissolving drug or other therapy, you must get to a hospital quickly so a doctor can treat you within a few hours after symptoms begin.

Adventist Health Castle's emergency staff can administer tests to diagnose the stroke or other medical problem that caused your symptoms.

FACE

Does one side of the face droop? Is it numb? Can you smile? Is the smile uneven?

ARM

Is one arm weak or numb? Try to raise both arms. Does one arm drift downward?

SPEECH

Can you correctly repeat a simple sentence? Is it slurred or hard to understand?

TIME

Call 911 immediately, even if the signs go away. Note the time when the first signs appeared. It will help with treatment options.

Other stroke signs

Sudden numbness or weakness of a leg.

Sudden confusion or trouble understanding.

Sudden trouble seeing in one or both eyes.

Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, or loss of balance or coordination.

Sudden severe headache with no known cause.

If you think you or someone else is having a stroke, it's essential to call 911.

SPECIALTY CARE

Comprehensive care for Windward O'ahu

Cardiology/cardiovascular disease

Thanks to Adventist Health's multimillion-dollar investment in cardiopulmonary diagnostic and treatment facilities, Windward O'ahu residents can rest easier knowing that comprehensive heart care is available close to home, 24/7, 365 days a year.

"From our state-of-the-art hybrid cath lab to advanced procedures that include open-heart surgery, Castle is on par with every other health care facility in the Islands," notes Sonny Wong, MD, FACC, who chairs Castle's Cardiovascular Section.

In addition, every member of Castle's ICU team completes the specialized training required for complex heart surgery and postoperative care, according to Annette Patellos, director of Cardiovascular Services.

The board-certified physicians on Castle's cardiovascular team provide a comprehensive scope of medical services. They are backed by highly skilled nurses and technicians who are as passionate about patient care as the doctors.

Otolaryngology

The otolaryngology specialists at Castle diagnose and treat a broad range of ear, nose and throat (ENT) conditions in both adults and children.

They also work with other clinicians, like speech pathologists and audiologists, to ensure a complete continuum of care.

Orthopedic specialists

The highly trained surgeons of Castle's Joint and Spine Center complement Castle's well-established joint replacement services. This year, the medical center was the first in Hawai'i to introduce NAVIO, the next generation of robotics-assisted systems for knee replacement.

"Health care technology advances quite rapidly, so we are always looking at innovation and how we can best serve our patients," says Suzanne Asaro, MPT, MBA, the director of Castle's Joint and Spine Center.

Minimally invasive spine surgery

With the addition of neurosurgeon William Beringer, DO, Castle now offers the most comprehensive minimally invasive spine surgery program in the state. The technique reduces unnecessary injury to surrounding bone, ligaments, skin and nervous tissue so patients can rehabilitate faster with less pain.

We can treat degenerative disk disease, disk herniation, spinal stenosis, spondylosis and spinal compression fractures. Dr. Beringer also provides neurosurgical treatment options for bleeding in the brain, brain tumors and Parkinson's disease (deep brain stimulation).

Greatness of gratitude

BY TRACIE ANN TJAPKES, DIRECTOR OF WELLNESS & LIFESTYLE MEDICINE

THE NEW YEAR is a great time to mark the events and bright spots of the past year that fill us with happiness, hope and, especially, gratitude.

These short snippets of gratitude came from our clients:

- “I am grateful for being able to get up every morning and seize the day with a smile on my face.”
- “I am grateful for camaraderie and the friends made here while exercising.”
- “I am grateful for being able to live in Hawai‘i.”
- “I am grateful for 63 years of marriage.”
- “I am grateful that I am celebrating 90 years of life with three daughters, including one who turns 60 this year.”

Many clients were grateful for the friendships made with classmates at the Wellness Center, which extended outside of class. They mentioned the special atmosphere; friendly people; and our warm, knowledgeable instructors, Cindy Carvalho and Chaz DeGuzman.

Our associates also shared what they were grateful for. Their answers ranged from having humor to God’s faithfulness.

Practice gratitude

According to the University of California Berkeley’s Greater Good Science Center (GGSC), the benefits of gratitude include improved sleep and heart health, interest in exercise, higher resiliency, hope and optimism. Gratitude raises levels of dopamine in the brain, the “natural high,” and this creates a loop of our wanting to continue to do good for others.

GGSC has identified seven evidence-based gratitude practices worth doing:

- 1. Savoring Walk: Walk for 20 minutes once a week.
- 2. Caregiving with Intention: If you are a caregiver, take three minutes before and after patient visits to be present and fully engaged.
- 3. Gratitude Wall: Take three minutes to write down what you’re grateful for.

4. Heart and Soul of the Month:

Recognize a person for his or her actions that spread positivity.

5. Invite Patient Gratitude: If you are a caregiver, invite patients to share what they are grateful for.

6. Grateful Letter: Take 15 minutes to write a thank-you note and 30 minutes to deliver and read the letter in person.

7. Grateful Journal: Jot down gratitude notes twice a week for 15 minutes for two weeks.

At Adventist Health Castle, I’ve been fortunate to be a part of four of the seven recommended gratitude practices above.

Perhaps you already practice some of these gratitude behaviors, or maybe you read about one you’d like to start. If you’re interested in pouring gratitude into your life, register for the GGSC’s 10 or 21 online challenge called thnx4.org. When the challenge is done, you receive a gratitude profile. Ideally, gratitude is a part of the culture we live and work in. I hope you’ll take some time to enjoy the greatness of gratitude.
